The Conservatives of Petersburg held large meeting at the Academy of Music last night, and organized a Tilden, Hendricks, and Hinton Campaign Club. Hon. Charles F. Collier was elected permanent president; two vice-presidents were chosen from each ward; Messrs. J. M. Pleasants and R. II. Glass, Jr., were elected secretaries; and James H. McClevy treasurer. Resolutions were unanimously adopted endorsing Hinton for Congress and Tilden and Hendricks for President and Vice-President, and stirring speeches were delivered by ex-Mayor Gregory, George S. Bernard, and Captain R. F. Graves. Under the auspices of this club the canvass in this city will be

FAUQUIER COUNTY. SUMMER LIFE IN A PIEDMONT TOWN-THE LARGEST PARTY OF THE SEASON-A GRAND

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] WARRENTON, VA., August 24, 1876. few items from this Piedmont town may be of interest to your many readers. At present this place is unusually gay. Parties and Germans" are given almost every evening. The town is full of strangers. Scores of beautiful and fascinating oung ladies, from Richmond, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Nor-folk, Memphis, and in fact from all over the country, are at present spending the summer in this vicinity. I must not forget to mention that young men-handsome and dashing-are also numerous, but still in demand

The largest party of the season came off on Tuesday evening at the beautiful and elegant residence of Major Rice W. Payne. The yard and dwelling were illuminated in a gorgeous manner; good music from Washington had been obtained. Fully two hundred and fifty people were in attendance. The dresses worn by the young ladies were truly handsome and costly. The supper was beyond description; everything that could be possibly procured in the markets was before us all in abundance, and enough left to keep Sitting Bull's warriors in good fighting trim for a long time could he have tepped in and gathered up the fragments. The dancing was kept up until 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, when all repaired to their respective residences, or visiting places, not exactly to sleep, but to take a short rest, for at 11 A. M. the same day a large number of the same party was invited o a "German" given by Mr. Eppa Hunton, Jr., at his father's residence. Well, they went; that is, all who were not too sleepy-and not many were in that fix, for such people as those hardly ever visit Warman, and was kept up until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.
